

The Very Strange Day

by Uktamkhon

I wake up from a nightmare and see that in 15 minutes the lesson will begin. I got to the bathroom to wash up dress in jeans and a white hoodie. I come to school and I go in at the last minutes. I go into the lessons and I see that the teacher was angry with us, but we were her favorite class. After the lessons I went to the canteen to eat faster because I had a lesson at 1am but they didn't let me into the canteen because they said that I was lying and I had no lesson at 1am. And I missed the lesson at 1am, then I came home and decided not much to lie down so very tired and when I woke up it was already said the night and I didn't do my homework. I didn't understand that today I drove through all this strange.